The Ted Booker Memorial Award

General Statement:

In 1971, Ted Booker, who had been President in 1969-1970 and was Dean of the College of Education at Texas Woman's University, suggested that TSCTE (predecessor of TxATE) use surplus funds to establish an award for an outstanding contribution in the field of teacher education. Because of his leadership in this area and his untimely death in 1971 due to a heart attack, the Ted Booker Memorial Award was established in April 1972 at the TSCTE Spring Conference. The first award was granted to L. Loyd Rogers in 1973.

Guidelines for Selection of Recipient:

1. Nominees should have made a significant contribution in the area of teacher education, specifically contributions in scholarship and policy.
2. Special consideration will be given to members of TxATE; however, non-members may be selected.
3. Nominations will be accepted from members of TxATE or non-members.
4. The person making the nomination should submit information on the nominee including the name of the nominee, school or work position, area of work, a resume of professional career, and contributions to the profession, and two letters of support.
